HOMECOMING 1973

One of the most memorable events of any school year is Homecoming. The 1972-73 Homecoming activities proved to be most successful. The theme, "Raindrops", was well portrayed by umbrellas and streams of silver raindrops hung from the ceiling.

At the coronation of Miss Chris Lazares in the annual school assembly, Mark McCormick, a tri-captain of the football team, crowned and kissed the queen. Marlon Dixon, another tri-captain, presented Queen Chris with a bouquet of roses.

The traditional Homecoming parade added to the color and festivity of the weekend. The spirit cars and floats revealed the extent of student participation. The class of '75 was awarded the trophy for the best float.

Chris and her court presided over the Homecoming football game. The Lancaster Gales were the Tigers' opponents and there was a good sized crowd in spite of the rain.

Attendance was good at the dance which terminated the exciting weekend. The entertainment provided by the teachers and the orchestra was excellent.

The Taft football team gained the respect of all their opponents this year despite their record of 3 wins and 6 losses. They gained this respect by their never-say-die attitude throughout the entire season. The team played in such a way that the student body took pride in their performances.

The Taft Tigers defeated the Monroe Hornets in a game that held the Hornets scoreless while the Tigers scored 14 points.

The second game resulted in a Taft loss to the Talawanda Braves. The Tigers were favorites in this game and this over confidence resulted in Taft's inability to overcome Talawanda's early scoring.

The Tigers defeated the Fairfield Indians in the third game. Taft got off to a quick start and prevented the Indians from getting any sustained drives.

The fourth game ended with Taft on the short end of the score, losing to the Lancester Gales. The Tigers had numerous opportunities to get on the scoreboard, but failed in their efforts.

The fifth game was against a highly favored Princeton football team. The Tigers were able to limit the Vikings' all-state Mike Gales to 87 yards, but numerous Taft mistakes resulted in a loss.

The sixth game was a loss against an exceptionally good Middletown team. The defense performed well by preventing the Middies offense from scoring. The Middies scored by a punt return and an intercepted pass.

The seventh game was the high point of the season for the Tigers as a result of their win over cross-town rivals, the Garfield Griffins. The two players that performed exceptionally well were Dan Morner for his running and Tim Herrman for his kicking.

The eighth game found Taft going against a new and formidable opponent, the Badin Rams. This game was played during a steady rain which limited both teams from performing effectively. The Rams, however, won the game.

The ninth and last game of the season ended in a loss to Wilmington's football team. The Hurricanes did not hesitate to get on the scoreboard and from then on led for the entire game.

ROAR

BEAUTY AND THE BEAST

This year the department has entered into a period of transition. Many new people in the various phases of production have made the year most interesting. I think we, all of us, have experienced theatre, learned theatre, and as a result, have grown in theatre.

Joy Wyatt, Nancy Shaffer

Cindy Johnson, Mae Shores

Miss Jarvis, Karen Clements

Susan Flynn, Lana Field

Gary Gibson, Tony Sword, Neal Hitchcock.

The play is performed on three mornings for young area school children. After each performance the cast and crews go outside to say goodbye.

A TRIBUTE TO SPECIAL

Terry Tincher playing Puttiwell with Beauty, Lisa Gaylord, and Woodsman, Jim Shelter.

Witch, Amy Morris with Beast, Tom Steenbergen.

Karen Clements as Grumbelina, with Terry Tincher, Puttiwell, and Beauty, Kathy Hatfield.

PLAYWRIGHTS AND SPECIAL PEOPLE

Beauty, Kathy Hatfield with Beast, Tom Steenbergen.

Gnomes, Richard Hixon, Nancy Shaffer, and Becky Simer, with Elves, Patti Hollingsworth and Suzi Hammacher, practicing a dance step.

Dumpelia, Joanne Dister, with Snidella, Casey Newton.

When Steve asked me if I'd like for him to write me a good children's play . . . . I thought he was kidding . . . . . .

The 11th Annual Children's Play, Beauty and the Beast, was, a very special play in many respects. It was the premier performance of a completely revamped adaptation of this classic fairytale. Two Taft Alumni, Stephen Arthur Williams and Amanda Boyd Zenner turned out what, I believe, is one of the funniest most entertaining children's play I've ever read, much less had the opportunity to direct.

Filled with an assortment of hilarity, memorable songs and music, this old story of a beautiful young girl and a bewitched prince captivated several adult evening audiences as well as thrilling over 1800 children during the morning performances.

Steve, a former dramatics student, now majoring in theatre, and Amy, majoring in journalism, are to be strongly congratulated for such a fine play in their initial attempt. To both of you, thanks again.

This play was special, also in that it involved so many first time people in a theatrical endeavor that was quite difficult to stage. Our set was the most elaborate we have ever attempted, our costumes were exceptionally professional, and in many other ways, our new people came through to help make this one of the most memorable of all children's plays.

Lastly, a special recognition to my especially talented friends . . . . . to Steve, Skyp, Jimmy, and Toni for helping all of us bring Beauty and the Beast to life.

Sincerely,

J.

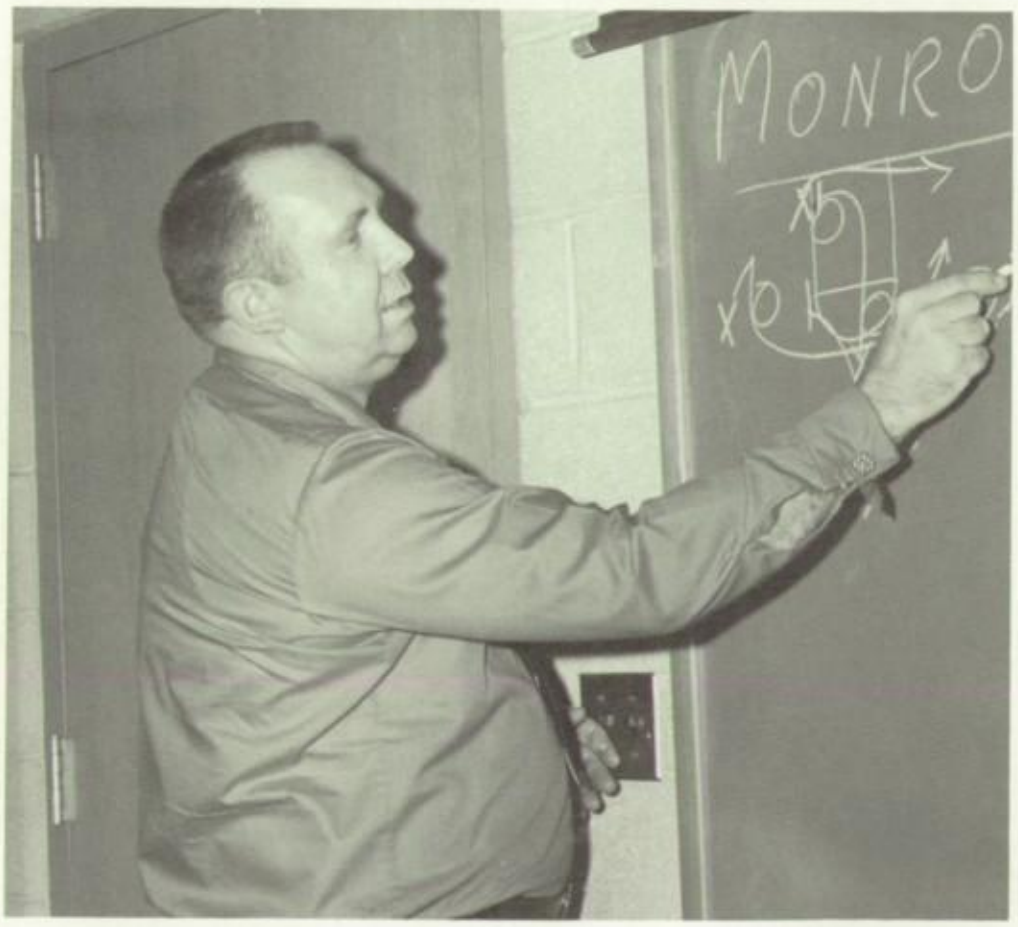
COACH OF THE YEAR



One starter back, Jerry Mathews; how would the "Tigers" do in 72-73? Twenty wins and three losses — that's how the "73" Taft Tigers did! The "moving out Tiger" expressed the nature of play, and we often said, "We're good for racing but not much for plowing." Racy Ron ran, Jeff Grammel flew, Nate Sherman sprinted, and Mark Sanders sparked Jake Mathews and his crew to a GMC co-championship, a sectional championship, a district championship, and 4th position rating in the state newspaper polls. This Class of "73" can be proud of the best three-year record in Taft's great basketball tradition.

This spring, one of the most challenging of all Taft Dramatics Department productions was presented at the end of March.

The play, as well as the act, was presented with total realism. Intensive character study made for realistic character portrayals. The set was complete with a 30 foot tree, a rustic house, a corn crib, a wrecked car, a well, and dirt.

The people of "Tobacco Road" left quite an impression on the actors as well as the audience.

In all aspects, "Tobacco Road" was a triumph.

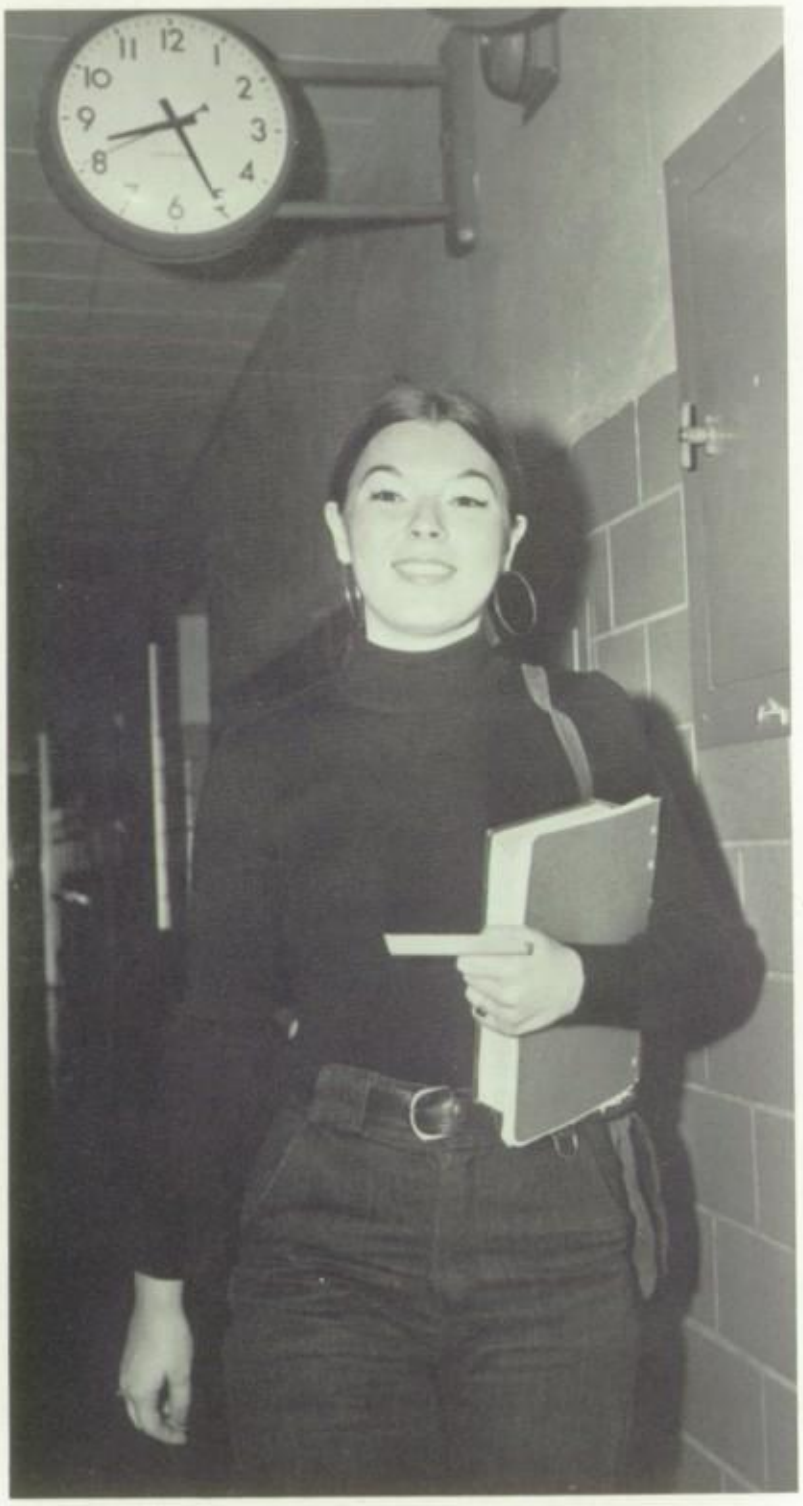
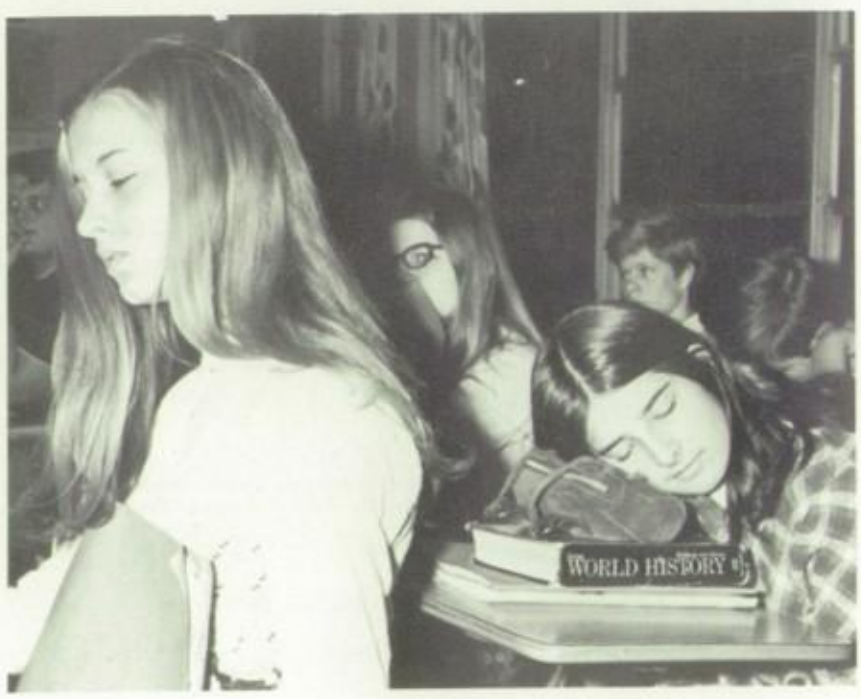
Do you think they saw us do it?

Hey! Mr. Maddox!!



No time to say hello, goodbye. I'm late! I'm late!

Do I have a choice!



They call this class DEATH VALLEY.

I'm what you'd call a real fast operator.

Someday I'll be a great schientist!!

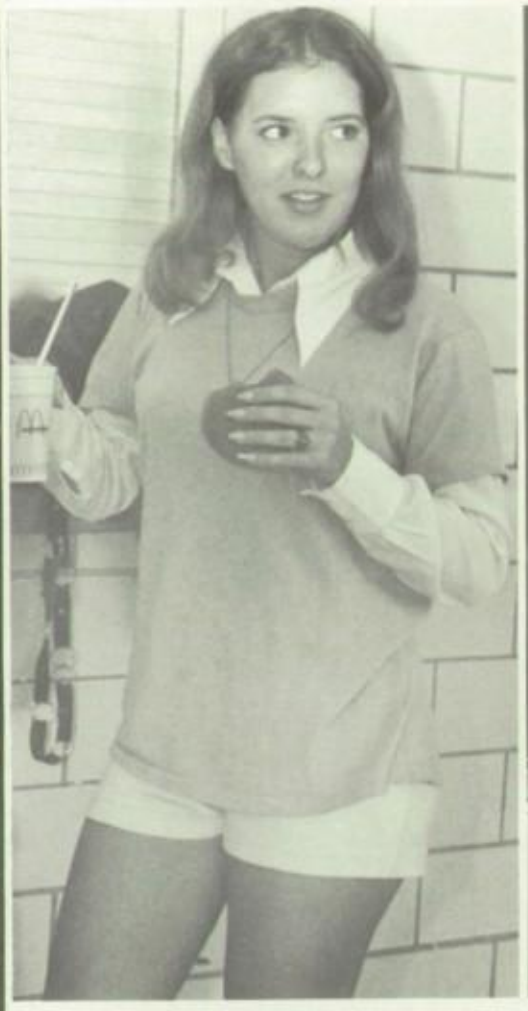
Do you really like my hat?

I'd wait for you forever.

You'll never guess what happened!!

I fail to see the humor . . .

Don't look now, but here they come!!



It sure beats peanut butter!

Where's the frog?

WHOSE mouth isn't big enough?!

But I liked your face the way it was . . .

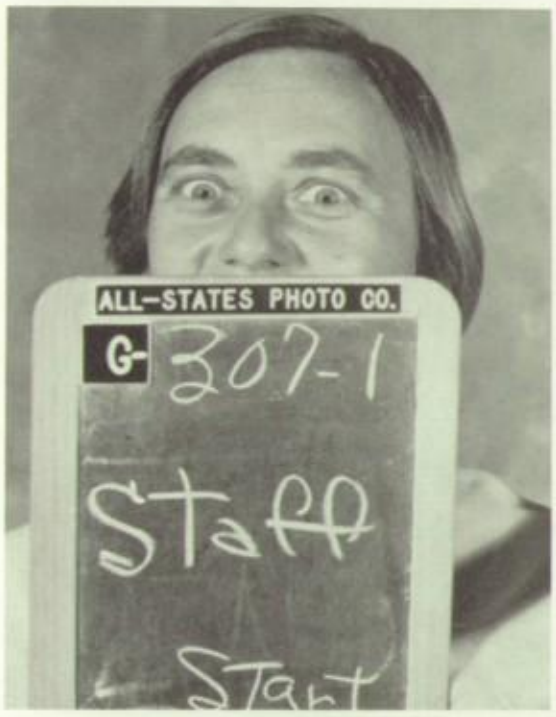
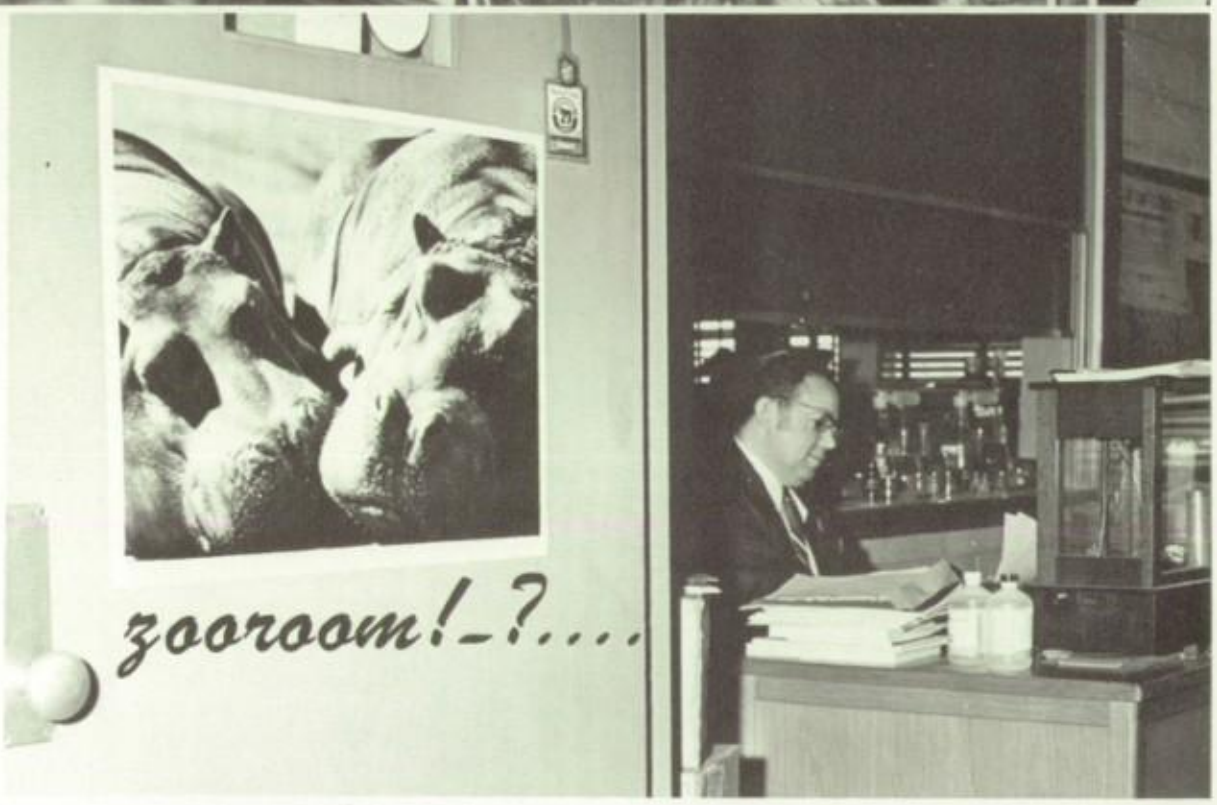
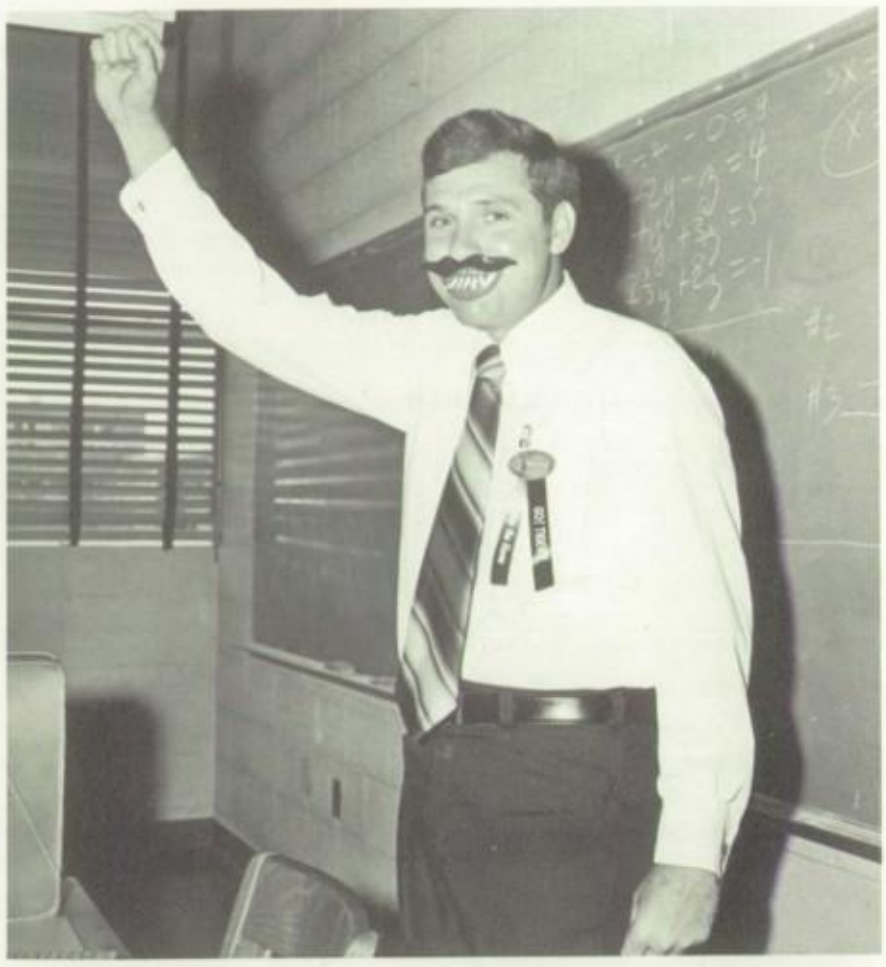
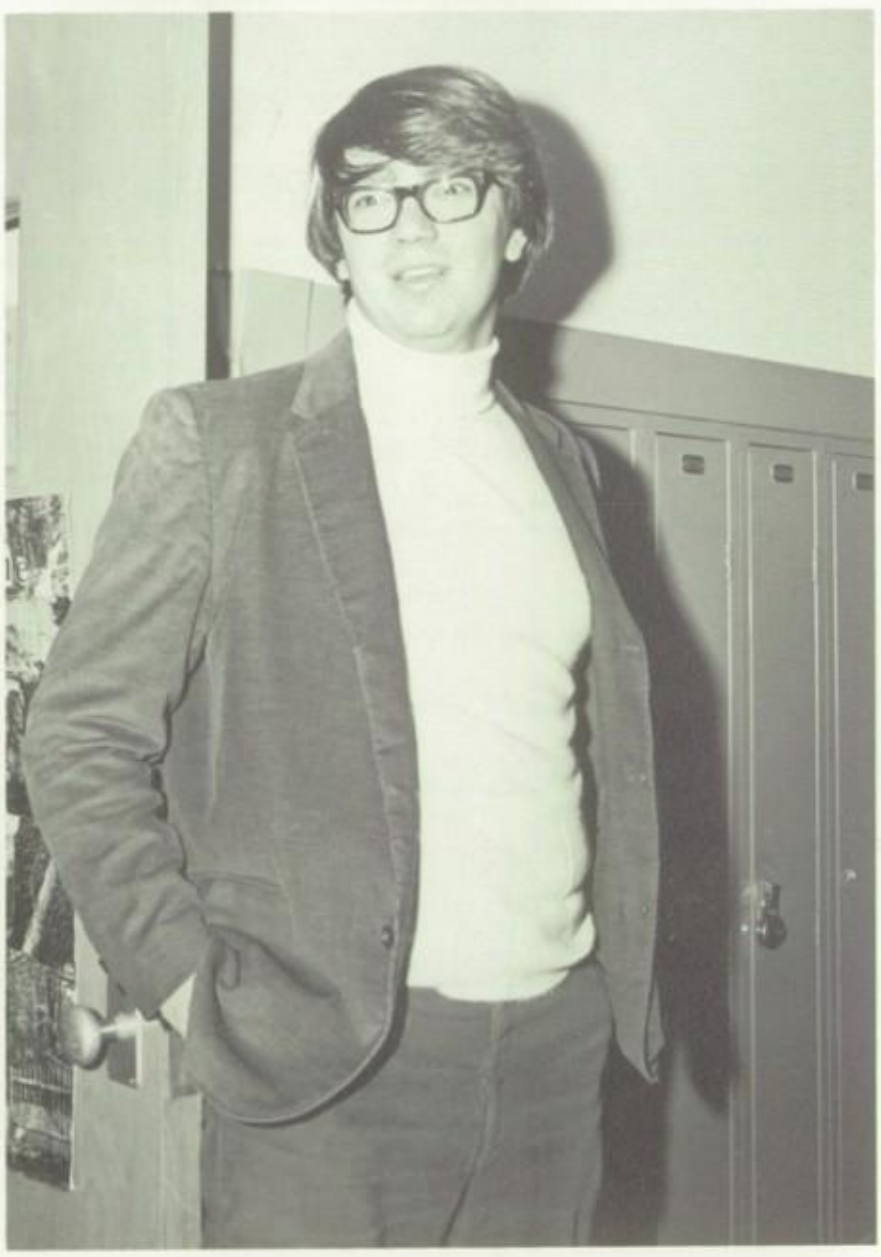
FACULTY

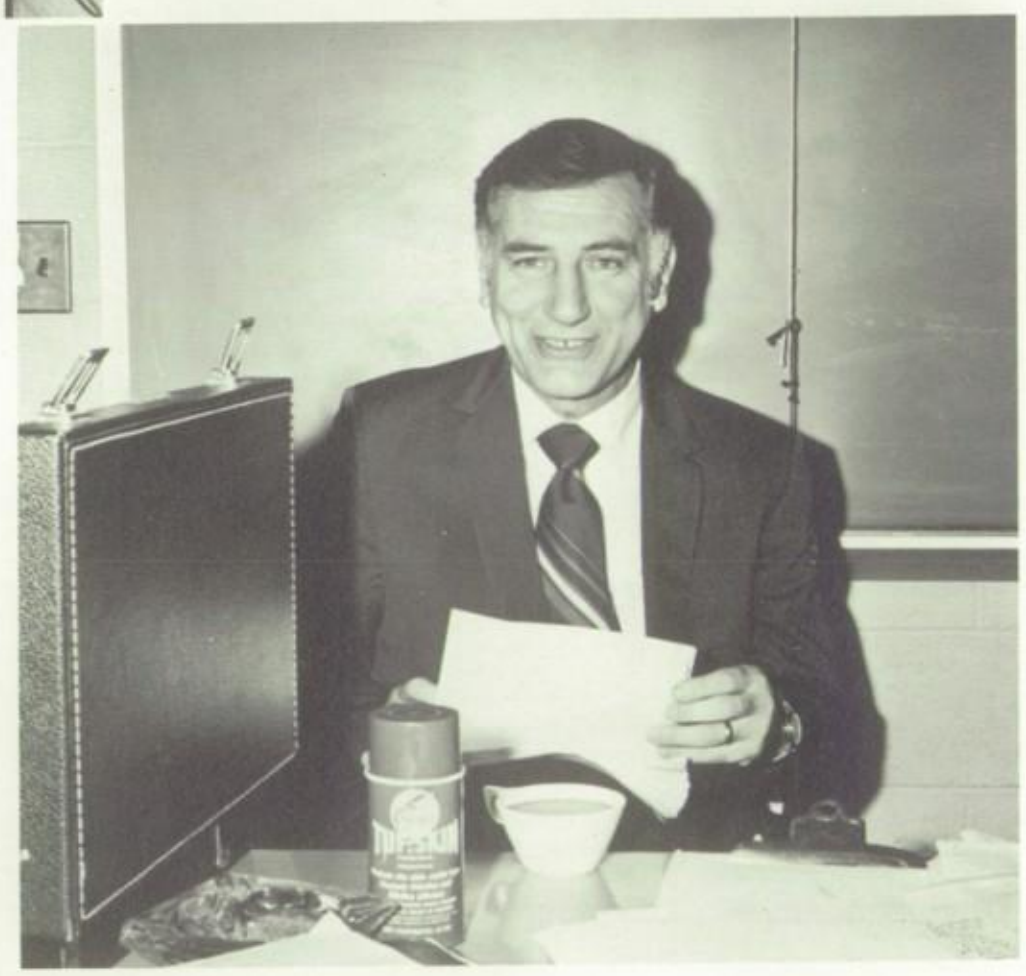


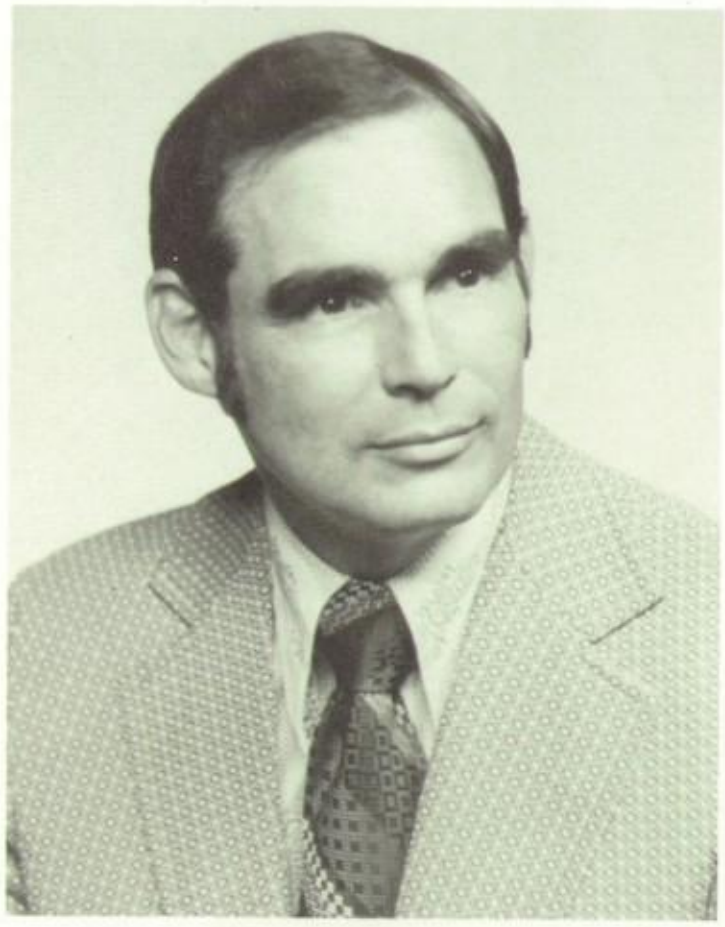


FUNNIES







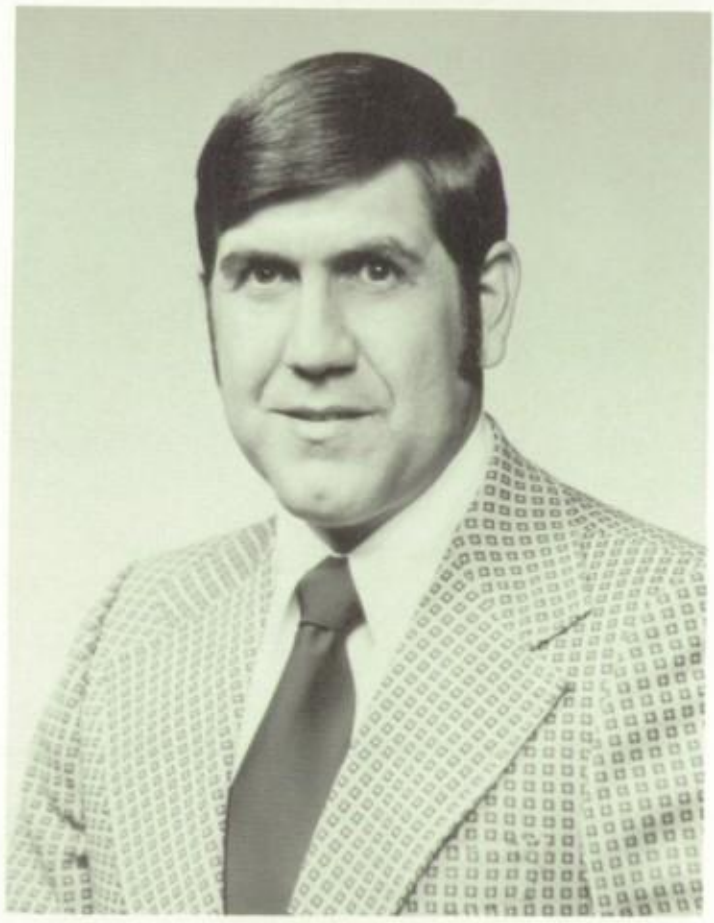


We hear many complimentary statements regarding numerous schools in our nation today. The descriptive terminology used generally reflects the school's program, faculty, and students. For years, Taft High School has been blessed with a most competent staff. The school's program has been in the operating realm of excellence. Perhaps, the biggest asset at Taft is the student body. Taft is YOU. You are what makes things go.

As you travel these memorable pages, you once again will see the fine quality of the Talisman staff. The story of pictures will unfold to you Taft High School of 1972-1973. It might be a story of happiness as Taft won over Garfield in football, a story of sadness in defeat, a story of self pride for being involved, or a story unknown whose label you must attach. Regardless of its content, its actors are you; YOU are Taft.

Jack L. Maddox

Principal



Taft tradition is indeed something of which we can be proud. It is the legacy of previous students and a challenge to the present students. We must all continue to keep Taft an outstanding place to transform ourselves into educated citizens of our community.

Maurice E. Miller

Assistant Principal

A talisman is a charm believed to possess occult or magic power. This volume of Taft activities of the year is your opportunity to penetrate more closely into the magic spell of Taft Senior High. It is to you what the thermometer or the X-ray is to the doctor or what the microscope is to the scientist. It is your opportunity to take a closer look.

Just as a bystander may sometimes perhaps see more of the game than the player, you, through this magic charm in becoming the bystander or the spectator of an entire school year of life at Taft, may see more of student life in these pages than you observed as one individual participant during the year. Take time for a closer look; perceive as you see, for a moment's insight can be worth a life's experience.

To quote John Ruskin, "Hundreds of people can talk for one who can think, but thousands can think for one who can see. To see clearly is poetry, prophecy, and religion — all in one."

Mildred T. Schwab

Dean of Girls

"Taking a closer look" could be the theme for the new English program at Taft as well as for this year's Talisman. At a time when we are all tempted to make quick, superficial, and easy decisions in a busy, hurried life, the English faculty, through its new program of course electives, is encouraging students to study deeply, to understand fully, and then to respond wisely to lasting truths on the strength of this knowledge and understanding. William Shakespeare urged us "to unmask falsehood and bring truth to light." This is what the English department is hoping to do by offering students an opportunity to delve deeply into their own areas of interest.

The Taft math department has established as its goal the development of a total high school mathematics program which would provide for each student at Taft High School an opportunity to acquire the mathematical skills necessary for his future. In order to accomplish this, we believe the traditional college prep and general approach needs restructuring and refinement to allow for student differences in ability, maturity, interest, and motivation.

Science is making an organized body of knowledge from a disorganized set of facts. It is the harnessing of the unleased energy of the universe into smoothly flowing, useable power. It is molding the elements and compounds of the earth into systems of civilized synthesis. Science is the understanding, the utilization and the perpetuation of the natural world for the good of all life. Science is life itself.

Learning skills in business may open many new doors — preparation for a job now, a career in the future, an asset throughout college and beyond. Whatever the choice, however great the extent of excellence, the human element of effective communication and harmony in dealing with people is a primary requisite. Skills and knowledge, along with positive attitudes, enhance work, enrich life, enable a person to BE.

Junior and Senior Intensive Office Education in Clerical and Stenographic fields, Cooperative Office Education in Clerical and Stenographic fields, Cooperative Office Education in both, and Business Education classes in Typewriting, Notehand, and Shorthand are offered at Taft.

The staff consisted of eighteen members and was supervised by Mr. Myron Aufranc. We would like to thank Mr. Aufranc for his time, fine photography, and expert advice. We wish to give special thanks to Cheryl Reiff, business manager, for doing a tremendous job in advertising and for designing the yearbook cover. We would also like to acknowledge Sheryl Peetz, art editor, for her contributions to this year's book.

In conclusion, we wish to express our appreciation to all staff members for their cooperation and help in organizing the 1973 edition of the Taft Talisman.

Are you taking a closer look at the opportunities offered to you through participation in the Distributive Education Class at Taft High School? Business is taking a closer look at us. This is indicated to us by employers who call us to help them fill job openings as they occur because they believe that we are a good source of capable help. We are taking a closer look at business, making sure that those businesses that with our cooperative program observe the regulations set down by law to the best of their ability. The community is taking a closer look at cooperative education as a whole. Business people are eager to participate in the expanded vocational program offerings of our school because we fill a need for them — employers who can do something.

BAND ACTIVITIES

The 1972-1973 edition of the Taft Marching Band began the season under the leadership of a new director, Mr. Robert C. Robuck, a graduate of Ohio State University and The University of Michigan. He was assisted by Miss Laura Connell, also a graduate of Ohio State. The marching band began with a rigorous four hour per day practice schedule two weeks before school opened and continued the pace throughout the football season. The band, accompanied by its five majorettes and an expanded 14-member drill corps, performed at nine football games and four parades during the fall season.

The Christmas concert marked the year's first performance by the Concert Band and also provided a look at the newly adopted formal concert attire for the girls. The Brass Choir, a select group from the band, was asked to perform twice on the steps of the Butler County Courthouse, adding to the Christmas festivities in the downtown area.

The Winter Invitational Concert was another first for Taft High School. Each year guest artists, clinitions or directors will be featured. This year Dr. Robert Hartwell, director of bands at Eastern Kentucky University provided a memorable experience for both the band and the audience. Also featured on this program was the Taft Stage Band which had an active season of its own playing at various school and community functions. Two alternating Pep Bands provided music and spirit for Taft's home basketball games.

The Women's Chorus is comprised of any junior or senior girl of Taft interested in singing but not in participating in choir, and all sophomore girls interested in singing. They appeared at Christmas and the Annual Pops Concert as well as District and State Contests sponsored by the Ohio Music Education Association. The 90 voiced Women's Chorus also participated in the production of "South Pacific".

The Treble-Aires are a select group of Choir students put together to provide a pop music outlet for the select students of the choir. The Treble-Aires provide programs for Service Clubs and Social Clubs and community events throughout the school year.

Baldwin's MusicLab changes learning music into liking music.
Baldwin's MusicLab puts the emphasis on fun. Not for fun's sake, but for music's sake.
Our idea is that children should learn the enjoyment of music while they learn the fundamentals of music.
The group is the key to that enjoyment.
Along side their friends, children learn enthusiastically. They help. They compete. They inspire. They do things for each other they couldn't do for themselves.

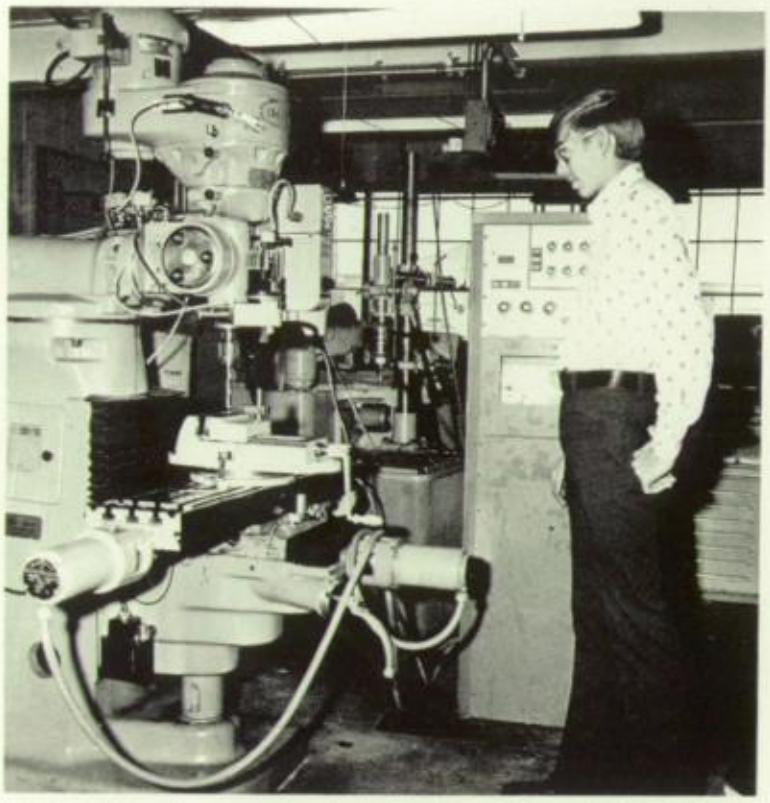
VOCATIONAL EDUCATION



Richard Stephens observing the Tape Control Machine in Machine Shop.

Stan Jones and Steve Compton working on a transmitter in Electronics.

Randy Swinney and Roger Sturm of Welding Shop working on a grinding hydraulic motor lift.

Ted Case of Drafting.

Over two-thousand years ago, Plato stated in The Republic that "the direction in which education starts a man truly determines his future life." Each generation since that time has shared, in some measure, Plato's concern over its educational system. Our generation is no exception.

Today, there are more than 20,000 possible careers in America, diverse enough to encompass everyone's interests and abilities. Yet 2.5 million young people each year graduate from high school or drop out of high school or college with no planned career and few, if any, marketable skills. These young people urgently need the type of education and training that can assure them a fully productive and rewarding participation in modern society.

It is quite natural then, that career education has come to the forefront of national concern in education during the past few years. We have at last begun to recognize the urgency of providing every young person the opportunity to explore careers, to examine occupational opportunities, and to learn more about the work-world surrounding him.

In 1970, Ohio became the first state in the nation to require that each of its public school districts gear up to offer comprehensive vocational education programs to their students by 1975. Hamilton has developed such a plan. We have, during the past few years, added many new career education programs for our students. Additional new programs will soon be developed.

It is our hope that ultimately our local schools will offer a total career education program sufficiently extensive in scope to provide all students the opportunity to receive meaningful learning experiences and to graduate with definite career objectives and salable job skills.

Norbert L. Shepherd, Director
Adult and Vocational Education
